GUIDE & INFORMATION

A little bit about

OH MY GOLLY

I'm particularly passionate about wedding stationery and love to help couples bring their vision to life through our handcrafted designs. In the Studio you will find myself a Graphic Designer, mum to Billie and Max, and wife to Brett. As well as Augustus, the 1930s German Original Heidelberg Letterpress! Both usually covered in Ink and Oil.

I have spent over a decade honing my craft and developed extensive experience across several medias, including creative and corporate advertising. Since founding Oh My Golly, I has devoted several years to reviving the traditional practice of Letterpress printing. Old Augustus is a true marvel and creates stunning custom designs guaranteed to illicit some gasps.

After being a bride myself a few years ago, I understands how overwhelming and stressful planning a wedding can be. Which is exactly why entrusting an expert to help bring your vision to life can be an immense relief. I love helping newly engaged couples celebrate their love through beautiful, bespoke wedding stationery.

The Process

AND HOW I WORK

Before I begin designing and printing your personalised stationary or wedding suite, I first book in a design consultation. One of the requests I ask, is access to your Pinterest board. This gives me another opportunity to understand the style you are aiming for. If you are using a wedding planner or stylist, I also suggest that you pass on my details so I can liaise with them.

Design Consultation

We discuss all aspects of your wedding style that you have planned. From colours, to dress code and other wedding services you have booked.

Stationery Concepts

With the design consultation completed, I sketch and design 2-3 letterpress suite concept options that suit your wedding style. We then make any adjustments and changes.

Final Sign-off

After all final changes are made I ask you to consult with your venue and other services to finalise times and other details to add to your letterpress wedding suite. Where we then confirm final sign off.

Printing

This is where the magic happens! I have your letterpress wedding suite design made into polymere printing plates, where I print your wedding suite on my 1930's letterpress machine. Each colour and piece of stationery is hand set up for the perfect print! Once printed, I precisely trim your suite on my German gullotine Gillian!
